

Research Bites@Your Library

Are you an academic researcher or a research candidate? These lunchtime seminars are just for you.

26, 27 & 30 October 2015

1:10pm – 1:50pm

Come along to find out how Research Librarians can support you at different stages of your research.

Date	Topic	Description
Monday 26 October	Making Research Data Discoverable	Learn about the benefits of publishing descriptions of your research data and find out how you can make your research data discoverable using the University's Research Data Discovery Service
Tuesday 27 October	Manage your Research Identity	Understand the importance and benefits of developing and maintaining a consistent research identity and, specifically, learn about ORCID , ResearcherID , Scopus Author Identifier and Google Scholar Citations profiles
Friday 30 October	EndNote – Beyond the Basics	Learn more about some of the advanced features EndNote has to offer: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Term lists ▪ Synchronising and sharing EndNote libraries

All sessions are offered at the following venues:

- ❖ Sandy Bay, Social Sciences Building, Room 209 *
- ❖ Hobart City, Medical Science Precinct, Lecture Theatre 2 – Room 115 (Mon & Tue) *, Room 444 (Fri) *
- ❖ Newnham, Video Conference Room A023 *
- ❖ Inveresk, Video Conference Room 181
- ❖ Burnie, Cradle Coast Campus, Room A119
- ❖ Darlinghurst, Video Conference 1, Room 106
- ❖ Rozelle, Immersive Studio, Room 22

* A Research Librarian is available as a presenter or host at this location.

Interested? Book via the Calendar

Like more information? Contact Research.Librarians@utas.edu.au