1. Double click on the Datastream icon on the desktop

2. Click OK

3. The splash screen will display

4. Authenticate using your email username and password

5. You will now see the Datastream interface, where you can request data, for help using the interface click help and open the getting started guide.